He has sent me to bind up the broken hearted, to proclaim freedom for the captives and release from darkness for the prisoners. – Isaiah 61:1

Psalm 10

1. The Wickedness of the Wicked

His mouth is full of lies and threats;
trouble and evil are under his tongue.
He lies in wait near the villages;
from ambush he murders the innocent.
His eyes watch in secret for his victims;
like a lion in cover he lies in wait.
He lies in wait to catch the helpless;
he catches the helpless and drags them
off in his net.
His victims are crushed, they collapse;
they fall under his strength.
He says to himself, "God will never notice;
he covers his face and never sees."

– Psalm 10:7-11

2. Arise

The background of the slide features a sunset scene with a bright orange sun low on the horizon. In the foreground, the silhouettes of three children are shown from behind, holding hands and raising their arms in a gesture of praise or joy. The sky transitions from a deep orange near the sun to a darker blue at the top.

Arise, Lord! Lift up your hand, O God.

Do not forget the helpless.

<sup>13</sup> Why does the wicked man revile God?

Why does he say to himself,

“He won’t call me to account”?

<sup>14</sup> But you, God, see the trouble of the afflicted;

you consider their grief and take it in hand.

The victims commit themselves to you;

you are the helper of the fatherless.

A sunset sky with silhouettes of birds flying over a body of water. The sky is filled with soft, colorful clouds in shades of orange, yellow, and purple. Two large birds are prominently featured in flight, one in the upper left and one in the upper right. The foreground shows the dark silhouettes of trees and buildings along the water's edge, with their reflections visible in the calm water.

Psalm 10
3. Terrify No More

<sup>15</sup> Break the arm of the wicked man;
call the evildoer to account for his wickedness that would not otherwise be found out.

<sup>16</sup> The Lord is King for ever and ever;
the nations will perish from his land.

you encourage them, and you listen to their cry,

<sup>18</sup> defending the fatherless and the oppressed,
so that mere earthly mortals will terrify no more.

– Psalm 10:12-18

A photograph of three young women standing in a field of green plants and flowers, looking out over a landscape at sunset. The woman in the middle has her arms around the shoulders of the two women on either side of her. The scene is bathed in the warm, golden light of the setting sun, with mountains visible in the distance.
